Hospital opens doors to Panorama

BY LAUREN MUMFORD

A TOP investigative documentary series will be visiting the county town's hospital to see how the NHS is tackling infectious disease control.

BBC 1's Panorama will be filming a one-hour special about the once-troubled Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust. The programme will look at the new measures being taken to combat superbugs like MRSA, Clostridium difficile and Norovirus.

The trust was at the centre of two outbreaks of C diff which caused the deaths of 90 patients at its three hospitals between 2005 and 2006. A damning report from Healthcare Commission at the end of last year blamed poor infection control and management failings for the outbreaks and forced the trust's senior managers to resign.

New chief executive Douglas, who was last year given the job of turning around the crisis-rid-den trust, said: "We have nothing to hide and a great deal to be proud of, even so, we thought hard before we agreed to let Panorama's cameras in.

"Would they just open old wounds and remind people of the problems and failings of the past? Our conclusion is that this will be an opportunity for staff to show just how good this trust is – a trust with a commitment to patients which is outstanding."

Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust are hopeful it will see a 30 to 40 per cent reduction in C-diff cases this year, as well as a 40 per cent drop in MRSA.

The hospital's improvements have been put down to the leadership of Mr Douglas, who was appointed permanent chief executive last month.

NHS health organisations have also joined forces with Yourmaidstone to help ensure every-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Football's coming home - after 20 years

MAIDSTONE United are coming home for the 2009-10 season after almost 20 years in the wilderness.

Oliver Ash, managing director of French company Richmond Developments, has bought a 25 per cent stake in the club, which mean the Stones will be able to move into their new ground at Whatman Way.

This investment and a grant from the Football Foundation will allow the club to play in Maidstone.

All three were remanded in custody to appear at Maidstone Crown Court on Friday February 29.

Victims of crime get friendly phone call

A CONTACT service for victims of crime is already reaping rewards – with more than 230 residents being called in the first month.

Staff at the Mid Kent Contact Bureaus – based at Sittingbourne and Maidstone police stations - ring vic-tims to ensure they have received all the information they require and answer any questions about their case.

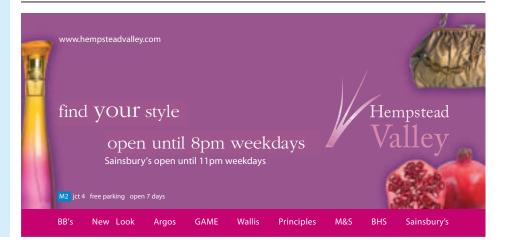

It is open from 8am-6pm Monday to Friday and for one day at weekends.

Cold thieves steal bar's bottle of brandy

THREE men are wanted after a bottle of brandy was pinched from a popular bar on a cold January morning.

Police are looking for the suspects, all aged in their 20s, following the theft at the River Bar in Maidstone on January 4 at 10.30am.

One of the men jumped over the bar and grabbed the bottle of Courvoiseur and then ran out of the door, closely followed by the other two men.

School moves to appease parents

Grammar rethink on selection policy

EXCLUSIVE

BY LAUREN MUMFORD

A BOYS' grammar school heavily criticised by parents for proposing to become a 'super-selective' school is considering a compromise.

The announcement that Maidstone Grammar School would only take the highest performers in the 11-plus test created controversy last summer.

Despite the move being one of the main planks in the institution's bid to become a foundation school, parents were dismayed that local pupils and those with brothers at the school would be excluded.

Now the Hastings Road school is consulting county council education chiefs and local primary schools on changing its admission criteria to give preference to qualifying pupils within the Maidstone area and with siblings at the school.

a combined score of 390 or more in the 11-plus. If places remain, priority will be given to pupils who have passed the Kent Test with brothers at the school and then those living within the set areas.

A source, who provided Yourmaidstone with details of the consultation, said this system is still designed to select high-achieving pupils, as parents will know their children's scores before choosing schools, so those with scores under 390 will be inhibited from applying to the school.

A Kent County Council spokesman said: "The impact of Maidstone Grammar School's proposals on local schools and children are still being considered.

"If the local education authority or other schools wish to challenge them, they can do so to the Schools Adjudicator up to the end of May."

The admission area being considered for priority includes all Maidstone villages, such as Bearsted and Larkfield, and stretches as far as Tenderden, Yalding and West Peckham. No-one was available to comment at the

Some 109 vehicles, including a bus and two lorries, were stopped during the operation.

Rural Sergeant Mick Hayes said: "I hope this operation sends out a message to motorists that excess speed will not be tolerated on our rural roads."

The villages targeted included Headcorn, Boughton Monchelsea, Nettlestead and the A20 at Harrietsham, which was recently the scene of a fatal car accident.

Forty-three drivers received fixed penalty notices, seven were summonsed for more serious offences and a driver had his car seized for having no insurance.

Global warming could be a killer for your horses

HORSE specialists have expressed fears of deadly diseases being brought into the UK as a result of global warming global warming.

Specialist vets Tim Mair and Ed
Knowles gave a talk to equine students at Hadlow College, near Maidstone, about the different kinds of diseases horses could be subjected to as a result of climate change.

Lecturer Dr Howard Lee said: "As we release more carbon dioxide into the air, it traps heat at ground level like an invisible quilt.

"Warmer and occasionally wetter weather attracts heat-loving insects such as the mosquito and this improves the chances of diseases such as malaria, the ancient 'ague' of the British fens, returning once more to our shores."

The vets, who practice at one of the UKs largest equine centre's, Bell Equine Veterinary Clinic, explained the ways in which African horse sickness, strangles and West Nile virus are spread and the symptom horse owners need to look out for.

Strangles can be spread rapidly before symptoms even appear. Horses suffering from the disease have a snotty nasal discharge, swollen lymph glands, a cough and an increased temperature.

swonen lympi giands, a cough and an increased temperature. West Nile virus is spread by mosquitoes and, until 1999, had been unknown in the Western hemisphere.

But as a result of changes in the climate, hundreds of people, horses, other mammals and birds have died because of it.

The virus causes swelling to the brain and spinal cord with symptoms including weakness and lethargy, loss of appetite, fever, stumbling, head pressing and banging and inability to stand.

To date none of these diseases have appeared in the UK, but specialists are urging horse owners to be virilant.

EXCLUSIVE: Maidstone's Mote Park is the perfect setting for ## Environmental promise of park location

COUNCIL chiefs say Mote Park is the perfect location to make this year's Big Weekend the most environmentally-friendly yet.

Having a 450-acre park so close to the town centre will allow revellers to use public transport to get to it – reducing its carbon footprint.

An out-of-town venue would have seen tens of thousands of music lovers clogging up the area's roads with cars, but the council hopes the majority of festival-goers will come to Maidstone on public transport and then use buses from the town centre to Mote Park.

Extra park and ride schemes will also be brought in for the event for those who chose to drive to the county town.

Environment lead councillor Tony Harwood said: "The beauty of Mote Park is that it is a sustainable location. It is rare to have a park of that size and beauty so close to the town.

"This means it will not have to be a car festival. People can get on trains and then buses from the town centre. We will also look at park-from the town centre. We will also look at park-and-ride schemes in the run-up to the event." He added: "There is a real buzz about Maidstone at the moment. We have a thriving music and club scene. It is a young town, good-looking town as people are well turned out." Cllr Chris Garland, deputy leader of the council's Conservative group, said: "This is a exciting opportunity for Maidstone. It will put us on the map in terms of what we can offer." Cllr Mike FitzGerald said: "It is great that will be huge for the town."

Mayor Richard Ash will attend as one of his last official duties while in office before standing down on Wednesday, May 14.

Chris promises to make weekend our biggest ever

THE Big Weekend will be the biggest music event Maidstone has ever hosted.

Organisers say it will help the county town in its bid to be crowned the music capital of Kent, and local bands are set to benefit from the national focus being put on Maidstone.

The month leading up to the two-day event at Mote Park on May 10 and 11 will see a series of events.

Roadshows and gigs during The Road To Maidstone will showcase unsigned bands and give everyone the chance to get involved in the buzz of the Big Weekend.

Scouting for Girls were unveiled as the first act confirmed to perform at the event during Chris Moyles' live broadcast from Leeds Castle on Friday morning.

Big names

But a glittering array of stars are expected to join them at Mote Park.

Last year's event in Preston featured the Kaiser Chiefs, Scissor Sisters, Kasabian, Stereophonics and Razorlight.

DJ Chris Moyles said: "The Big Weekend events are one of the highlights of the year. "I know that sounds like a line, but it's true.

I hope everyone gets excited about it and to the lucky ones who get tickets, trust me, it'll be the best thing Maidstone sees this year."

Scouting for Girls performed She's So Lovely and Elvis Ain't Dead, the hit singles from their number one album, live in a room inside the historic castle during Moyles' show.

Lead singer and guitarist Roy Stride said: "We have been playing together for about ten years. We're really proud of what we've done, as we are friends from school.
"To be here on Radio 1 and to have a number one album is unbelievable.

We are now putting the album out live and have a number of festival dates coming up, but the Big Weekend will be the start of this.

"Hopefully there will be nice weather. Bring it on Maidstone!

"I would like to see Kate Nash, The Foo Fighters and The Hoosiers, but there is so much great music around at the moment."

A fourth stage, the BBC Introducing Stage, will be added to the Big Weekend this year to showcase some of the hottest emerging bands.

There will also be a main stage, the In New Music We Trust stage and an outside dance

Fearne Cotton will interview revellers at the entrances, Chris Moyles will announce the acts on the main stage and Pete Tong will host proceedings on the dance stage.

Jason Carter, Radio 1's editor of live music and events, said: "We are very proud to announce Maidstone as the hosts for our eighth Big Weekend.

"With massive line-ups of some of the biggest artists in the UK and from around the world performing in Mote Park, it'll be a great opportunity for Radio 1 to put a national focus on Maidstone and the South East and all that it has to offer."

A great opportunity for our county town

THE county town appealed to Radio 1 bosses in their search for the location of this year's Big Weekend due to its vibrant youth culture.

The thriving club and local band scene in the county town attracted the radio station as it looked for a host for the event.

The spokeswoman said: "Kent as a whole has a big student population and a high overall demographic of 15 to 24-year-olds.

"Radio 1 will tap into local nightlife with fringe gigs and club nights throughout the week of the event to make the Big Weekend as accessible as possible to local people – it is not just about the event in Mote Park."

She added: "Maidstone council has been hugely supportive – they were instrumental in bringing the Big Weekend to Maidstone.

"The event has a huge economic impact locally and the size of our audience means Radio 1 can showcase Maidstone and Kent on a national level.

Regions

"It is important for Radio 1 to support different regions of the country. This will be the first major Radio 1 event in the South East for some time – it is important for us to interact with our audience here.

"The Big Weekend is the most important event in the station's calendar – this year we have a great site, with some brilliant bands. "It's going to be a massive weekend for

QUESTION & ANSWER

PAUL BUTCHER

Can you tell us a bit about yourself?

As well as being a parish councillor, which involves working for the community in Staplehurst, I am also self-employed as a removal man. This again involves working with the public.

I own a house in College Road, Maidstone, where I was brought up and I spend my time between there and my house in Staplehurst.

I find Maidstone much more laid back and challenging, and as life has been good to me I feel that I could make a big difference in the area.

Maidstone as a place to live has got many things right and if people listened it could be the top town in Kent.

What do you think could be improved?

Last April/May I spoke to many residents of high street ward and lots of issues came up which were very similar to my own ideas. My mother, who is a mature lady, lives in the

My mother, who is a mature lady, lives in the outskirts of the town and many elderly people live within the high street area.

They need to work with the local council on rent and council tax. Unfortunately the paperwork is very complicated and it would benefit them to see this simplified.

Off street parking many residents have to pay for a parking permit. The unfortunate thing is that most people work all day and after 6pm anybody can park in a residential zone. So it would be good to make restrictions on these zones 24/7.

The town centre has many attractive features for the night time economy, but problems occur with transport into the town at regular intervals and lack of toilet facilities for females. Males have a facility, so why not the females?

Smoking ban: this was a great law passed by the government, however no extra funds were made available to councils and the large number of clubs in the towns, which are making profits from the public, fail to supply adequate areas to smoke.

People have to smoke on the pavements outside causing an obstruction and litter.

Qan you tell me about your campaign to be elected as a borough councillor?

My main work within the community has been working voluntarily with young people and I feel that as they're our future generation, it is important to find out why they tend not to vote in elections.

The Liberal Democrats have been looking after the high street for many years, but as I am fresh blood and full of energy and enthusiasm, people with wish lists can rely on me to fulfil as many as possible.

Have you done anything like this in the past?

A I have stood for borough council in the high street twice before, and at Coxheath and Downswood, but they have always been difficult seats to win as they have been held by strong Lib Dem councillors.

Last May I only lost the vote on the postal side, so by starting my campaign so much earlier I feel I am in with a better chance.

Where do you hope Maidstone will be in ten years time?

A I would like to see the borough council being strong with one party having a longer period than one year to work on local issues.

Maidstone is a growth area and we want new people and new businesses to be here, but only by making it a better place for everyone can we encourage this.

Many new houses are due to be built, but without the right infrastructure this is not going to be possible going to be possible.

People do not realise that if Maidstone does not sort out its recycling and waste that we will be fined and the money will come from all our pockets.

Having spent most of my life in Maidstone and running a successful local business has given me a great deal of interaction with my staff, their families and people in general.

As a single parent I have been able to gain a greater understanding of what is needed by people today and I feel that by just listening and spending quality time with people, you can offer, in most cases, the olive branch they need.

The parish councillor in Staplehurst took the time to talk to Lauren Mumford about his role, how he feels the county town could be improved and what he would do to implement the changes needed

Big tax rise but our cops promise more

BY LAUREN MUMFORD

COPS have been handed an inflation busting rise as part of council tax rises but they have promised to do more to tackle anti-social behaviour.

The total police budget for the year was set at £266.9 million. For taxpayers this will mean an extra £6 a year for band D households just for policing and £128.28 of each bill will go to the constabulary.

The raise will pay for task teams and officers to supervise violent, sexual and dangerous offenders.

Ann Barnes, chair of the authority, said: "I really do believe this is money well spent. Our proposed investments reflect the concerns drawn to our attention by the public during our extensive consultation.

"The new task teams will fill a gap and com-

"The new task teams will fill a gap and complement neighbourhood teams already in place – acting as the enforcement arm."

It will also fund implementing a new national code of practice to ensure police forces and agencies can share data to stop a repeat of incidents such as the Soham murders, when Holly Wells and Jessica Chapman, both ten, were killed by Ian Huntley in the Cambridgeshire village in 2002.

After he was brought to justice details of previous sexual allegations made against Huntley and known by other authorities emerged which should have prevented his employment as a school caretaker.

Members of Kent Police Authority unani-

Members of Kent Police Authority unanimously agreed to increase the forces' budget by 4.99 per cent at a meeting at County Hall

HAPPY: Chief Constable Mike Fuller is delighted with the funding decision which Local Authority chair Ann Barnes says will help fill the gap in neighbourhood policing in Maidstone last Wednesday.

The task teams will provide back-up and support to officers and PCSOs on the streets, allowing them to concentrate on reducing anti-social behaviour and criminal damage.

The teams will be introduced in six areas around the county following successful pilot schemes in Rochester and Strood, and on the Whitehall estate in Ramsgate, where residents said it made them feel safer.

The authority will also invest in ten experienced officers to help supervise known violent, sexual and dangerous offenders in the country. The team will monitor them and assess any risks they could pose to communities.

As well as this, a new team will work with other authorities and groups looking at how police store, record, and delete information – which is being introduced on a national level after lessons learnt from the Soham murders.

Mrs Barnes said: "I'm especially pleased that the authority has agreed to fund more resources. Protecting our children is hugely important and again a concern shared by many residents across the county.

"It's never easy putting up taxes, no one likes to do it as it affects us all – but I'm confident people will see some important benefits."

Chief Constable Michael Fuller said: "We are absolutely delighted with the decision the police authority has made today, it will assist us in protecting the public of Kent.

"My highest priority was tackling anti-social behaviour, which is still one of the biggest public concerns and without the increase in funding we wouldn't be able to employ these task teams.

"The main thing is the people paying extra will get something in return."

The new schemes are expected to be introduced from September.

SUPERBUGS: Clostridium difficile cannot be beaten with alcogels, so soap and water must be used. Microbiologist James Nash, left, says resistance to antibiotics is why MRSA has become so prolific and that a new strain of the bug currently being seen in America could be the next challenge facing the NHS

BY JENNA PUDELEK

SIMPLY washing your hands with alcohol gel or liquid soap and water is the best way to help the county's hardworking doctors and nurses in their battle against killer health-care-acquired infections.

Consultant microbiologist James Nash spoke to KOS Media about the main superbugs – MRSA and Clostridium difficile.

Although different in their transmission and symptoms, all bugs are spread by poor hygiene and overuse of antibiotics.

Dr Nash, who is director of infection prevention and control for East Kent Hospitals NHS Trust, said the original superbug MRSA started to emerge in the 1970s, gradually becoming more common and accelerating in the 90s.

He said during this period the NHS did not pay enough attention to cleaning hospitals and controlling the use of antibiotics.

The situation has improved since reaching a crisis in 2000, but has left a legacy of large numbers of people who are MRSA carriers numbers of people who are MRSA carriers.

Dr Nash said most people have Staphylococcus (Staph) on their skin, but what makes it MRSA (or methicillin-resistent Staph aureaus) is resistance to a lot of antibiotics. It is not dangerous when it lives in areas such as the armpits and nose, but it is more difficult to treat when it gets into infections.

Experts believe around three per cent of the population are MRSA carriers, but the rate of carriage rises to 10 to 20 per cent among the elderly. It causes abcesses and boils, and can lead to blood poisoning. It can be spread on the hands through touching a number of patients.

The best way to kill the bug is alcohol gel hand wash, which is now available in all hospital wards. Infections are treated with special antibiotics.

Dr Nash said the UK is fortunate, at the moment, not to have a significant number of cases of the particularly virulent strain currently affecting America – known as C MRSA.

"These have not appeared in this country in any significant numbers, but they may be the

THE NEW THREATS

- Pseudomonas is a bacterium found in water and can be a problem if medical equipment is not decontaminated properly. Strains can be resistant to antibiotics, making it difficult to treat and manage.
- ESBL Klebsiella is an organism associated with urinary tract infections, which used to be easy to treat with antibiotics. Doctors are now encountering a strain that cannot be treated with oral antibiotics and need intravenous therapy.
- Acinetobacter is a bug causing problems in intensive care units because it is resistant to antibiotics.

next thing that comes," he said.

Controlling the use of antibiotics is particularly important in tackling the other infamous superbug – Clostridium difficile.

The gut organism attracted unprecedented media attention after a Healthcare Commission investigation found it was responsible for the deaths of at least 90 patients during two outbreaks in 2004 and 2006 at Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust hospitals.

Antibiotics kill off a lot of the normal bacteria in the stomach, which allows the C diff that might be there in low numbers to grow, producing a very powerful toxin.

Discovered in 1978, C diff was thought to be Discovered in 1978, C diff was thought to be a normal outcome for patients on antibiotics.

But in 2000 experts became concerned after reports from the US about a more severe strain of the diarrhoea bug that was killing patients. It was not until 2004, when two outbreaks at that the strain arrived in the UK. Coupled with the outbreaks at Maidstone, NHS trusts now take the infection seriously and rates are low across the country, Dr Nash said.

C diff can be treated with antibiotic or probiotic treatments and in some severe cases patients may have to have surgery to repair damaged intestines. However, alcogels do not kill C diff – soap and water are necessary to defeat the bug's spores.

Dr Nash said: "We think we've moved from it

Dr Nash said: "We think we've moved from it [C diff] being endemic to a situation where we have clusters. We think if we can keep it up we won't see high rates of C diff again."

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in and around Maidstone...

Environmental damage is nucleus of power problem

SO British Energy support the government's plan to build more nuclear power stations; there's a surprise.

To paraphrase the famous comment by Mandy Rice-Davies during the infamous Profumo scandal of 1963: "well, they would wouldn't they".

I never thought I would witness a Labour government advocating the building of more nuclear power stations, or, worse, renewing Trident. But then I never thought I'd ever witness any British government pursuing such needless, expensive and dangerous policies.

Everybody in what we still hold to be our free society is entitled to their own opinion, and mine is that nuclear power is one of the greatest confidence tricks ever foisted on human society.

The whole nuclear power industry was set up to produce material for use in nuclear weapons. It was never was conceived as, or intended to be, an economical way to produce electricity, and the problems of decommissioning power stations and dealing with the waste were deliberately ignored.

I am not alone by any means in this opinion.

Here are some of the thoughts on the subject from well-known pressure groups who have been proved right on many subjects in the past 50 years. These are the kind of organisations that have made us aware of the threat to whales, the dangers of weapons of mass destruction, the cruel treatment of farm animals, and indeed, global warming itself, among other things.
GREENPEACE: Even if Britain built ten new reactors, nuclear power can only deliver a four per cent cut in carbon emissions some time after 2025. Even the Government admits this (Sustainable Development Commission figure). It's too little too late at too high a price.

CND: Nuclear power is not the answer to climate change – in fact, even if we doubled the amount of nuclear power in the UK there would only be an eight per cent reduction in greenhouse gases. It is neither carbon emission free nor would new power stations come on stream for at least ten years. It threatens the environment and people's health.

No safe solution has yet been devised to store its carcinogenic toxic radioactive waste, some of which is dangerous for thousands of years. It also leaves us vulnerable to the possibility of nuclear accidents or even terrorist

FRIENDS OF THE EARTH director, Tony Juniper: "The decision to encourage the construction of new nuclear stations in the UK is both irrational and unfortunate. It is irrational because the economics do not stack up and because renewables and energy efficiency could meet our needs more quickly and sustainably. It is unfortunate because the nuclear option will limit our ability to lead in the exciting and fast growing new markets for modern energy sources. And that is bad news for the UK economy and jobs".

Much more has been said, and will be said, on the subject. But remember, it is unlikely we will have to pay for this folly; those who come after us certainly will.

Win a new football kit for your team

EVERY youngster wants to look like their favourite player and now we can help them to do so.

We have teamed up with grassroots football supporter, Co-operative Insurance (CIS), to provide one lucky team with a full set of CIS kit.

CIS has been investing in football

CIS has been investing in football since the 1970s and supports the game at all levels, from UK grassroots initiatives to sponsorship of the CIS Insurance Cups in Scotland and Northern Ireland. Since its grassroots programme was launched in 1999, CIS has provided free kits to 2,700 youth teams and provided football coaching for over 14,000 children.

Your team will look like winners with the smart new CIS kit, which consists of navy blue shirts with the CIS logo, navy blue shorts and white socks, and a red goalkeeper's kit. The full kit includes 15 outfield shirts, shorts and socks and one goalkeeper's complete outfit.

The kit is available in two sizes (chest 32/34-inch and 34/36-inch), and is pre-numbered and machine washable. We also have a CIS Kit bag full of training equipment for the runner-up.

So, if you want your team to be dress for success all you need to do is tell us: Since when has CIS been investing in football?

Send your answer on a postcard along with your email address (if applicable), name, address, and daytime telephone number to CIS COMP, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Smeeth, Ashford. Kent. TN25 6SR. For terms and conditions see www. kentnews.co.uk or call 01303 817073. If you do not wish to receive any literature please write on your entry. Don't forget to include the name of your club and the size of kit you require.

• Co-operative Insurance (CIS) forms part of Co-operative Financial Services (GFS), a group that provides a range of banking, insurance, savings and pension products. CFS was formed in 2002 to bring together CIS, The Co-operative Bank and smile, the internet bank.

TALK TIME

CHRISTOPHER GARLAND

The 34-year-old councillor took the time to speak to Yourmaidstone about what attracted him to his chosen career

Can you tell us about yourself I moved from Bexley to Maidstone in 2001 because I could get the house I wanted at the right price, but equally because of the ability to be in the countryside within a short period of time.

I run my own mortgage broking firm which I set up four years ago. I am also Conservative councillor for Shepway North and currently the deputy leader of the opposition Conservative group on Maidstone council.

What attracted you to a career in politics?

I served as councillor in Bexley back in 1995, so I have always been interested in community service in a political capacity.

So much can be done from town hall in terms of changing the places we live in for the better of all.

It is frustrating at times when dealing with government edicts, which you know do not help the local area but you must carry out, such as in planning and dealing with urban cramming.

Do you have any future projects for the area?

The current council is building on the policy planks that last year's Conservative administration put in place to improve our planning system and turn it into a framework that is more in keeping with what residents would generally like to see for Maidstone - a vibrant and prosperous community that all can participate in, but that maintains its traditional and historical character.

As Conservative deputy leader it is my privilege to serve a committed and talented group of councillors and eventually, hopefully, the council as a whole.

YOUR LETTERS

Bag up excuses and ban plastic now

I was pleased to read in last week's paper of the initiative to stop shops using plastic bags in our town centre

Plastic carrier bags are an environmental menace, taking years to biodegrade at rubbish tips.

We all use them to carry our shopping home and they end up filling a draw in the kitchen or stuffed in a cupboard, never to be used again.

So I applaud town centre managers coming up with a scheme to get traders to stock reusable shoulder bags. But I cannot see why it takes 14 months to bring this scheme into force. Why does it take so long to change anything in this country?

If a change is worth making it should be done straight-away rather than leaving it so long that it is in danger of falling by the wayside.

Your article said the delay is to allow shops to use up their stocks of plastic bags, but I can't believe they have 14 months worth of bags sitting in their store cup-

Veterans should not be feeling helpless

Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association (SSAFA) Forces Help, Kent, were alarmed to learn last week that an 84-year-old disabled veteran had contemplated suicide as a way out of his financial predicament.

No veteran needs to resort to desperate measures when he or she falls on hard times.

SSAFA Kent is here to provide the service and ex-service community - service men and women as well as their families all the necessary help when such circumstances arise.

One day's service in any of Her Majesty's armed forces, including the reserves, entitles service people and their families to a lifetime of support from SSAFA. It is easy to find us in the business section of the phone book under "SSAFA FORCES HELP".

We are based in sixteen towns in Kent, so help is never very far. All of us are mature, trained volunteers and many have themselves served in the armed forces.

I hope that service people and their families will turn to us in the first instance when difficulties arise. We should be able to provide immediate relief and stay with our clients for as long as they need us. The service is absolutely free and totally confidential.

suggest that there are many who do it purely for financial reasons.

An unskilled man with children receives more money on the dole then he does working. He may want work but cannot afford to.

Off course I do not agree with this situation and we need to have a radical change, but how can we when we still import cheap labour, how long will it be before all unskilled and semi-skilled British workers are no longer needed in this country? These jobs will be taken by CHEAP foreign labour.

So within ten years 50 per cent of the indigenous British population will never work and will be supported by the state from cradle to grave.

Who pays for this? The immigrant labour may pay tax, but because they on a low wage that will be very little and what they do pay will be spent on the burden they put on the state by using things like the National Health Service and claiming benefits like child benefit.

So it will be those British subjects who are working or have businesses who will have to pay through massive tax increases.

The blame for this lies in the hands of the Labour Government, so hopefully when the Conservatives are elected things will change, BUT will they?

The main reason we have so many immigrants in this country is because this Labour Government gave in to an edict from the European Union.

Can a Conservative Government change this EU rule and others, and if they can't will they leave the EU to save the British population?

Can David Cameron answer this question?

One cannot blame just the Government for our problems, businesses and employers must shoulder some of the blame.

Talking to some friends of mine who are in business, they maintain that businesses and shareholders are only interested in profit.

If that means sacking every British worker and employing immigrant workers so be it. Where is the ethics and morality in that? Surely one of the reasons anyone goes into business is to help others and not profit from the misery of others. It may be an old-fashioned

It may be an old-fashioned Christian virtue, but one I feel we need to return to.

Ten recommendations to help beat cancer

With new scientific studies being published all the time, it is easy to get confused about how our lifestyles can affect our risk of cancer.

This is why World Cancer Research Fund published a report last November that looked at all the evidence available before making ten recommendations.

After not smoking, these recommendations offer the best advice on preventing cancer available anywhere.

These are available on our website at www.wcrf-uk.org and we have now grouped these recommendations into three simple guidelines that sum up how we can reduce our cancer risk.

These are: to choose mostly plant foods, limit red meat and avoid processed meat; be physically active every day for 30 minutes or more; and to aim to be a healthy weight throughout life.

We have produced a booklet that explains these guidelines in more depth, and your readers can download it or order it from our website at www.wcrf-uk.org/publications.

Unique Brand of comedy is still joy to see

TV star Jo rolls in for sure fire sell-out

ONE of the country's leading comediennes will be paying a welcome visit to Kent this spring.

During the last two decades, Jo Brand has become a successful stand-up, author and broadcaster, as well as an immensely popular TV personality. Tickets are expected to sell out fast, so book yours now to avoid missing this comedic treat.

Brand, 50, was born in Hastings and educated at Tunbridge Wells Girls' Grammar School, before embarking on a career in the caring profession. Her mother was a social worker and Brand famously worked as a psychiatric nurse before discovering her talent for making people laugh.

An agent persuaded her to try her luck on the alternative comedy circuit, where she earned a cult following with the pseudonym The Sea Monster. Her droll, almost bored style of delivery combined with perceptive and cutting one-liners were a huge hit in the clubs, which led to her becoming a resident panellist on the 1993 BBC show The Brain Drain.

She then landed her own Channel 4 series, Jo Brand Through The Cakehole, which established her in the mainstream as one of the country's favourite female comics.

During the 80s and 90s, her distinctive image – big hair, dark clothes and Doc Marten boots – went hand in hand with her heavily feminist material. Pet topics included sexism and prejudice against fat people, but the perceptive quality of her jokes made her just as popular with men and thin people.

thin people.

Since becoming a wife and mother to two daughters, Brand's humour has evolved and now takes in marriage, family life and the challenges of getting older. She has also branched out from stand-up, becoming a popular semi-regular panellist on the intelligent panel game QI and fulfilling an ambition by appearing on Countdown in the Dictionary Corner

With her dry and razor-sharp wit, she often leaves younger male comedians speechless on programmes such as Never Mind The Buzzcocks and Have I Got News For You.

Her hilarious appearances on

GENIUS: Jo Brand has been making us laugh with her cutting one-liners for over 20 years

Comic Relief Does Fame Academy and Comic Relief Does The Apprentice won even more fams of all ages. She even endured being made over by Trinny and Susannah in a special episode of What Not To Wear four years ago, the old black leggings and Doc Martens having been ditched in favour of more feminine clothes.

A poll by Channel 4 named her the 22nd best stand-up ever and the second highest ranking woman in the chart, beaten only by Victoria Wood.

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15. Call 01622 758611 or see www.hazlitttheatre.co.uk.

KEITH JAMES DOES LORCA

Monday, February 25
Zohra Rar Maidstone Zebra Bar, Maidstone

THE work of Spanish poet Federico Garcia Lorca (pictured) has been set to music in a groundbreaking project by Keith James. His critically acclaimed album, Lorca, is an ambitious celebration of one of the 20th century's greatest writers. The tour gives audiences a chance to experience the passionate, haunting and evocative poetry set to James beautiful and contemporary compositions.

The Kent singer/songwriter discovered Lorca's work purely by accident. After visiting a bookshop to order volumes by Chilean poet Naruda, he came out with one of Lorca's books and the love affair began. James was hooked and he began to research the poet, who was murdered during the Spanish Civil War, before deciding to set his emotive words to music. He will be performing a selection of tracks from the album, as well as the songs of artists such as Nick Drake and Joni Mitchell. A film about the life and death of Lorca will also be shown.

The gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 in advance or £12 on the door. To book call 01622 744481.

MASTERS OF THE HOUSE

Sunday, February 24 Hazlitt Theatre, Maidstone

MUSICAL fans will be in for a real treat when the Masters of the House visit Maidstone this weekend.

The group – former members of the Les Miserables cast – will be performing music from the best of the West End and Broadway shows.

Between the great songs, the audience can enjoy witty anecdotes from the world of theatre.

Now in its seventh year, the show has proved hugely successful with its blend of humour and the magic of musicals.

Critics have praised the group, describing the numbers as both "real and fullblooded" and "spine-tingling and emotive.

One critic wrote: "It was the excerpts from Les Miserables which brought thunderous applause and proved that all four really were masters, not just of the house, but also in their vocal delivery and stage presence."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £15/£13. To book call the box office on 758611 or 01622 www.hazlitttheatre.co.uk.

record his own HBO special in the US. His film credits include starring alongside Russell Crowe and Oliver Reed in Gladiator, as well as appearing in Hollywood blockbusters such as The Mummy, Spy Game and Pirates of the Caribbean III.

His numerous awards and nominations are tes-tament to his talent as a brilliant comedian, described by critics as "magnificent". Experience his explosive and engaging comedy when he vis-its the Assembly Hall Theatre. Tickets cost £19.

To book call the box office on 01892 530613/532072 or see www.assemblyhallthe atre.co.uk.

Weave with willow at Leeds Castle workshop

LEARN the ancient craft of willow weaving in the beautiful surroundings of Leeds Castle.

Local craftsman John Waller will be demonstrating how to create living willow seats on Thursday, February 28, and garden structures on Friday, February 29.

Tickets cost £95 for one day or £180 for both, including all materials and a light lunch. Workshops will run from 10am to 4pm. Places are limited to eight per course. To book call 01622 767877 or see www.leeds-castle.com.

Jump on the happy trail to hear Americana

HAPPY Trails will be playing their own brand of Americana music from the Appalachians in Hucking tomorrow night.
Join in the dancing at Americana
Country Night at the Hook and Hatchet

Give your energy levels a boost

■ Think Slim 'n' Trim

A PERSONAL solution to health and weight loss goals is offered by Think Slim 'n' Trim with Herbalife coach Nevil Kapadia reaching out to clients in many different countries.

He explains: "Herbalife is a major way to maximise nutrition and potential and customers can go online to see what products are available to ensure their body is at its very best.

"Often the most available foods are high in fat, sugar and salt and lacking in essential nutrients.

"This can lead to the body being denied essential vitamins and minerals

The UK, Finland, Sweden, New Zealand and the USA all boast customers for Nevil's health-boosting range.

One of the most popular products he offers is Formula 1 - a shake-style drink developed 27 years ago.

A meal in itself in one glass, it is the ideal start to any day as it is packed with vitamins and minerals, soya protein, carbohydrates and healthy fibre – but with less than 220 calories in each serving.

Nevil, who would love to work with soccer star David Beckham and his LA Galaxy team mates, said he has received very positive

SMALLER: Yvonne is proud of how much success she's had with Think Slim 'n' Trim

"It really is life changing," he said. "It's unbelievable how you have more time in the day when you feel great about yourself.

"Energy levels have shot through the roof. Self esteem and self worth increase. You can do things you would never do before. Imagine yourself at your absolute best, nourished, healthier and rearing to go, feel the difference. That difference is Think Slim 'n' Trim.

Mandy Lane is an object of adolescent lust for all her school. A shy teen, she's forced to entertain irritating advances while on a weekend excursion with her classmates. She thinks these pathetic come-ons will be the worst of it, but as her mates are killed off one by one, it appears an admirer is harbouring ulterior motives.

It's not cuckoo to write a list

BY ELLIE GENOWER

Having turned 70 last year, Jack Nicholson may well have mortality on his mind already.

If not, his latest movie The Bucket List was bound to do the job – it follows two seriously ill men who make a list of things to do before they 'kick the bucket'.

"I think fear of death and fear of the

"I think fear of death and fear of the unknown motivates people not to live in the now," says Jack, sunglasses, as usual, fixed in place.

"I always mistrusted someone who said they didn't want to live forever. I changed my mind when I thought to myself, the real question is not whether you want to live forever, but do you want to live forever at the expense of your children? Because if suddenly people stopped dying, we'd have a real ecological problem on our hands."

These days, Jack doesn't do a lot of movies, averaging about one a year since 2000.

Having reached pensionable age with three Oscars to his name, there's not much left for the star to prove – and he knows it. But The Bucket List offered him the chance to work with Morgan Freeman, an actor he has long admired.

"We've known one another a long time," admits Jack. "Morgan and I very much wanted to work together. Sometimes things are great and filming this was one of those times. We both had a lot of awareness of one another. It was a reaffirmation."

The Bucket List also offered Jack the chance to work with director Rob Reiner again, who was at the helm during Jack's legendary performance as Marine Colonel Nathan Jessop in A Few Good Men, alongside Tom Cruise.

After Jack's character, millionaire Edward Cole, meets Morgan's, mechanic Carter Chambers, in hospital, the pair become unlikely friends and opt to use Edward's cash to make their 'bucket list'.

This sees them jet round the world on an exhaustive trip seeing landmarks like the pyramids in Egypt and the Great Wall of China, and indulging in skydiving, car racing and getting a tattoo, all with the aid of Jack's long suffering assistant Thomas (Sean Haves).

But of course, the trip isn't just about two men having the time of their lives. They also have to deal with long-forgotten personal issues.

Says Jack: "What I like about the tone of this movie, and my character, is, it's not sentimental, but it has sentiment."

Mention Jack's own personal bucket list, and his thoughts turn to actors he'd like to work with.

"We've all got a bucket list," he admits. "I can't work with Marilyn Monroe, so she's off the list. But there are a lot of people. I was thinking about it last night because people are always asking me which young actors I like.

"Tm categorically against making up lists like that because somebody's always annoyed, so I never answer. But I thought, 'No, I'm going to do this different. I'm going to write out a long list of people, be it Nick Cage or Joaquin Phoenix'.

"Incidentally, it's a pretty long list."

So, after an acting career which has spanned several decades and given him more adulation, awards and acclaim than most actors can only dream of, does Jack have any regrets?

"I think," he says, "that it's always the things

"I think," he says, "that it's always the things you don't do in life that you regret most, not the things you do."

Explore a lakeside retreat

BY Hannah Stephenson

Driving along the precarious winding roads and through tunnels cut into the jagged mountains reminded me of a scene from The Italian Job.

But it wasn't a Mini we were travelling in, the location wasn't Turin and Michael Caine was nowhere to be seen. In fact, we were doing a circuit of Lake Garda, Italy's largest lake, which lies in the foothills of the Dolomites in the north of the country.

Lake Garda, peppered with a mixture of elaborate hotels, pebble beaches and beautiful towns against a stunning mountainous back-drop, has plenty on offer for the discerning

Thankfully, unlike other popular resorts, architects haven't dug into the spectacular hillside to create holiday apartments or commercial villages. The scenery varies enormous ly, from the craggy mountains of the north, to the rich vineyards of the middle reaches and the gentle plains which back the southern

We were staying at Europa Silvella, a pretty campsite near Salo, on the south west of the lake, shaded by olive trees.

Our drive north took us past Salo through tree-lined roads alongside picturesque towns including Gardone Riviera and Gargnano and, almost at the tip of the lake, to the more commercial town of Limone, where you can hire pedalos, go for a swim or even catch a car ferry across the lake to Malcesine, also known as the Riviera of Olives, which was loved by many celebrated writers and artists, most notably Goethe.

WHAT A VIEW: As the Cote D'Azur of Italy, Lake Garda isn't a cheap holiday, but it is beautiful

Many of the campsites around Lake Garda (and there are a lot of them) are situated on the hillside and enjoy stunning views of the lake. We were able to access the lake from our campsite for a swim and to just watch the world go by.

Lake Garda, which lies around half way between Venice and Milan, was formed by glaed between the regions of Lombardy, Trentino and the Veneto.

It may have an alpine setting, but the temperature is like the Mediterranean as the lake acts as a gigantic solar panel, with a ring of mountains retaining the heat.

It's 98 miles around the lake, so you can drive around it in a day, although we were keen to explore the many gorgeous villages and towns on its banks. To the north nearer the mountains it is windier and narrower, just two miles across at its narrowest point, and that's where much of the sailing and windsurfing takes place.

Further south there's still a plethora of water-based activities, from water skiing and jet skiing to scuba diving and fishing.

If you are going to drive, I would recommend hiring a small car rather than a big people carrier because parking can be tricky close to the lake in the height of season.

The best mode of travel for me, however, was the ferry. You can get to major towns across the lake this way, without the hassle of traffic or parking, although it is quite pricey - around 60 Euros (£42) for a half-hour trip for a family of four.

I have to say that eating out in Lake Garda is not cheap for families unless you live on shared pizzas. It is the Cote D'Azur of Italy, so expect to pay accordingly.

We found the Italians extremely child-friendly, the water cleaner than a lot of the Mediterranean and the ambience stylish but

All in all, the perfect Italian job.

Ainsley cooks up a feast of afternoon laughter

BY GEMMA QUADE

WHEN you think of Ready, Steady, Cook presenter Ainsley Harriott, you probably picture a bundle of boundless energy, all flamboyant enthusiasm and hearty chuckles.

Off the television, the chef is a little more sedate – but not much. On the morning we speak, he's had a tough week of filming and a very late night, but he's still as jolly as ever.

"People always think I'm this zany character. It's always me or Lenny Henry," the 50-yearold says with a large grin. "But I think I just see the funny side of life, I don't see the nega-tive side, and I think that's a very good energy to be around."

He does admit that today he is extremely tired, but will be filming more episodes of Ready, Steady, Cook later in the afternoon. "We've been in the studio for four days last week and four days this week, and it just catches up with you. But Dr Showbiz takes over and you get on with it.

"You have to keep the energy going because it's an afternoon show and everybody wants to have that little lift!"

Ainsley always knew he wanted a career in food and being able to combine that with tele-vision has been a dream come true for him as he also has a background in performing.

As a young man, in addition to training in the kitchen, he performed in numerous comedy clubs, even once doing a turn on the stage of The London Palladium.

"It was a great way of subsidising my income," he remembers. "The catering business is really bad to start with, so having the ability to go out and do a bit of work in comedy and perform with a few friends was great.

GOOD TASTE: Ainsley Harriott confesses he often wants to get stuck in when the chefs start cooking

"I was hanging out with Jack Dee, Alan Davies, Arthur Smith, Lee Evans, the list goes on. I'm in a room with these guys, watching these talented geniuses do their thing, and I'm there with a very mediocre double act called the Calypso Twins," he says with that trademark cackle. "But it was brilliant, I loved it."

His first foray into television came when he was made resident chef on Good Morning With Anne And Nick, which lead to more work on Can't Cook, Won't Cook, and Ready, Steady, Cook, Then, when Fern Britton left the latter programme, Ainsley was asked to take over as "It was pretty daunting," he recalls. "It was dramatically different from being one of the chefs."

While he loves taking on the role of host,

Ainsley reveals he's sometimes itching to get involved with the food and has to stop himself advising the other chefs what to make from the bags of ingredients brought in by the day's

"I find it so frustrating," he groans.
"Sometimes I want to strangle them and say,
How could you do that to that lovely veg-etable? But it's their gig,"

Of course, Ainsley is not alone in thinking he can do better than the other chefs, they are, let's not forget, an extremely competitive breed - and apparently that element of their nature is clearly visible for all to see backstage.

"Oh they are very competitive," Ainsley grins. "Especially the established ones who have been there for a while like Nick Nairn and Paul Rankin. It's terrible when those two are up against each other. They are almost pushing their fingers into each other's chests behind the scenes before they come out! It's a gladiatorial battleground!"

And those battles are not just reserved for Ready, Steady, Cook. Talk to any celebrity chef and it seems they've got some sort of beef with at least one of their peers. Although Ainsley doesn't join in this banter, he's been on the receiving end of a tongue lashing from Gordon Ramsay, who once said, "He's not a serious chef, he's a comedian".

But while Ainsley may never have owned a restaurant, he does run a catering business, and says life as a restaurateur never really appealed to him.

I was a bit nervous about it," he explains. "I always felt I was going to be locked in with no

DRAWING inspiration from the wartime disasters and relics of a violent past, the Sons of Alpha Centauri are far from your average local band.

And with the help of director Ben Brown, the Sheppeybased four piece have created a haunting animated video to accompany their dark and mesmerising sound.

Named after the brightest star in the constellation Centaurus, the third brightest star visible from Earth, the talented and thought-provoking band attracted the attention of independent record label Sound Devastation Records more than two years ago.

Their self-titled debut album has been a long time coming, and gigs have been few and far between with the band preferring studio to stage.

But this has not stopped them building a reputation as one of the South East's leading purveyors of ambient and conceptual stoner rock, with a very local flavour.

Just 300 metres off the coast from where the band practice and record is a sunken American cargo ship called the SS Richard Montgomery, which contains 1,400 tons of TNT. Government reports have warned the World War Two relic could explode, smashing every window in Sheerness and sending a 20ft wave up the Thames.

Projections

Guitarist Nick Hannon said: "When the band started and we were looking around for concepts we were very into the idea of being influenced by your immediate surroundings.

"We looked around Sheppey and realised there was all this derelict World War Two stuff nobody knew about the forts, the Richard Montgomery, the abandoned submarine base — and decided to build a concept around that.

"Ben Brown is a longstanding contributor; we've always tried to include the work of local artists under the umbrella of the band, and it all came together when he had to do his third year of his animation degree at Ravensbourne College.

College.

"He had to do a project about isolation and I sent him seven CDs of photos of the forts, the Montgomery and other stuff. The man in it represents him, it's semi-autobiographical."

The video was nominated for best film at the Royal Art Project show in London, and Ben now works for a visual design company up in London.

design company up in London.

The band has always been interested in more than just the music, seeking to make Sons of Alpha Centauri a complete sensory experience. To this end they have employed computer-generated projections at several gigs, meshing sound and images together to create an immersive audiovisual experience for their growing numbers of fans.

Nick said: "We've always believed the visual aspect is

According to a report, sales and letting agents are being warned to be on their guard for tenants with fake references who then assume the landlord's identity, apply for a mortgage and run off with the cash.

Rob Tancred, director of estate agency Capital Bromley, said: "If you do not have a mortgage on your property it is easy for a comman to obtain the title deeds and take one out in your name."

CONFUSION: Experts warn that a lack of knowledge of the changing Bank of England interest rates could have a big impact on the size of your mortgage repayments

Homeowners living on borrowed time

RESEARCH by The Homebuyer and Property Investor Show has revealed some homeowners are ignorant about basic financial issues, particularly in relation to mortgages.

Although rising interest rates have a significant impact on individual wealth, only one third of the respondents questioned knew what the Bank of England base rate was last month. It currently stands at 5.25 per cent.

Over 50 per cent of people believed the rate was under 5.5 per cent. These findings were confounded by the fact that 59 per cent did not know what the current interest rate was on their mortgage.

Such ignorance is worrying news for homeowners, many of whom could face a payment shock when their fixed rate mortgages come to an end soon.

The survey also showed an alarmingly low number of homeowners understand the mortgage options available, with only 34 per cent of respondents knowing that the tracker mortgage tracks the Bank of England's base rate.

gage tracks the Bank of England's base rate.
Nick Clark, managing director of Homebuyer Events, said: "The Bank of England interest rate plays a crucial part in determining homeowners' personal wealth. With borrowers not keeping their eye on the ball they could find they are paying way above the odds on their current mortrage.

the odds on their current mortgage.

"It is concerning that homeowners seem not to be on top of basic personal financial issues. Buying a house and signing up to a mortgage is possibly the largest financial commitment we make in our lives and yet the sheer number of people who do not understand the basic terms and processes is very worrying.

"However, help is at hand as there are a large number of highly trained financial advisors who can help explain the basic details as well as the more complex issues and keep borrowers abreast of any relevant changes and save them money in the long run."

Winner's keys to Punto

MEDWAY Fiat has presented a trendy special edition Grande Punto to a competition winner from Sittingbourne.

Golding after a competition staged by Fiat and electronics retailer Dixons. The Minnicans' Punto featured a spe-cial package of extras including 15-inch alloys, spoiler, side skirts, sports stripes and 'Blue and Me' Bluetooth system.

Blue and Me is a collaboration between Fiat Auto and Microsoft and was the keynote of the competition.

Citroën cracks the Code

FOLLOWING success with the well-appointed yet affordable three-door C2 Code (£10,695) supermini special edition, Citroën has 'Coded' the C1 city car and C3 Pluriel convertible.

car and C3 Pluriel convertible.

'Code' treatment can be deciphered as taking the model line's top trim level and adding leather upholstery, sporty alloys, chrome interior details and black livery, yet prices start from under £8,000 for the frugal three-door C1 Code – the standard equivalent costs £7,585. The Code package for the quirky Pluriel is even better value (£12,895) – below list price for the cheapest standard Pluriel.

Luxury Freelander's arrival only days away

LAND Rover has completed its award-winning Freelander 2 line-up with a new luxury flagship.

The Freelander 2 HST arrives in March, priced from £31,990. It looks the part with a Sports Styling Pack including front and rear bumper aprons, side sill mouldings and rear roof spoiler.

Other kit includes 19-inch, 10-spoke darkened alloys, leather seat facings, privacy glass and metallic paint.

At the same time the company is launching the equally arresting Range Rover Sport HST priced from £59,895.

Everyman's car keeps its exclusive features

FORD'S Mondeo used to be Britain's favourite car - now it struggles to get into the top-ten sellers' list.

Competition from MPVs and 4x4s has not helped, but the car that has inflicted most damage is the BMW 3-Series – the leader from a compact executive sector that has replaced the Mondeo in the affections of company car 'user choosers'

We tested the best-selling version 320d version, which delivers power and economy, low emissions and tax efficiency, status, driver enjoyment and practicality. Our car was also the coveted £27,555 M Sport. It commands a premium of more than £5,000 over the 320d 'cooking version', but looks the business when the company car park pecking order matters.

The M package brings a sports version of the exemplary 3-Series chassis, parking sensors, cruise control, climate control, its own alloys, a subtle M Sport body kit, and M Sport door sills.

The star feature is the engine though. Straight six petrol units made BMW's name here, but the 163bhp 320d unit is every bit as impressive in today's 'squeeze the motorist dry' Britain.

With virtual petrol engine refinement it delivers pulling power across the range as the consummate all-rounder for town and country and relaxed (45mpg-plus) motorway cruiser, aided by a well-spaced and slick six-speed gearbox.

As generations of 3-Series have passed, BMW has extended the wheelbase to enhance balance and handling, so this sporty diesel eats up cross-country travel safely and securely, with little body roll.

However, this can also highlight a fidgety state of the country of the ride caused by run-flat tyres; BMW has ditched a spare wheel for extra boot space, but the drawback could outweigh the benefit.

Inside, the ergonomics are typically good with a clear dashboard layout, excellent seats and a fully adjustable steering wheel.

That long wheelbase also guarantees good rear legroom, though headroom is slightly compromised by the roofline - I can admire the car's abilities, but I cannot love its variation on today's distinctive yet rather ugly BMW design theme.

On the other hand, so many people disagree and top-ten sales speak volumes.

MADE IN BRITAIN

carsf@rkent.co.uk <sup>i</sup>

WE may have lost our last major UK-owned car maker with the collapse of MG Rover, but the UK is still a major car manufacturing country. Admittedly, most cars produced here now have a Japanese badge on the front, but they generate many jobs within the car plants themselves and across a whole industry sector of homegrown suppliers. The products are also of high quality and good value and tend to soldier on well on the used market – check out this diverse yet reliable trio of leading Anglo-Japanese candidates.

NISSAN MICRA

SUPERMINI design has become formulaic in recent years, so Nissan gains lots of credit for daring to be different with the Micra. It's an eye-catcher inside and out and facelifts have maintained its cheeky appeal. Engine options are impressive throughout the range, including some excellent Renault-sourced diesels. The Sunderland-built three and five-door line-up also includes a coupé convertible and lively and trendy Sport range with a flagship, the 160SR, to rival cars like the MINI One and Ford Zetec S.

HONDA CR-V

HONDA's refined sports utility vehicle (SUV) gained a boost when the second generation line-up gained a much needed diesel option. This helped make it more popular even though it is not quite as stylish as its predecessor. It was also more spacious and capable, drove well, and was produced to a high standard at Honda's highly efficient Swindon plant. It was replaced recently by a smarter and less utilitarian CR-V that Honda hopes will avoid the environmental backlash against 4x4s.

TOYOTA AVENSIS

TOYOTA has built three generations of its family car model at a plant near Derby, but the latest Avensis – following the first generation Avensis and dull Carina E – is more than just an ultra-reliable company hack with some good diesel options. There is much Lexus luxury engineering underneath, allowing the Avensis to attack the market share of the Ford Mondeo and Vauxhall Vectra. The estate drives well and carries a decent load too, though unadventurous styling keeps Avensis prices affordable.

The NEW Harley-Davidson® XL 1200N Nightster™

Black says menacing. Black says dark side. And it doesn't get much darker than the new XL 1200N Nightster". Minimal LED stop-turn-tail lights. Chopped fenders. Wide black handlebars. Old school fork gaiters. Black rimmed laced wheels. Black fork sliders. Big black speedo. And guess what colour the drilled belt cover is? All powered by the torquey 1200 Evolution" V-Twin finished in dark grey and packed into a taut, nimble chassis.

Smooth. Muscular. Dark. Edgy. You are what you ride.

The XL 1200N Nightster™ from £6.695 on the road.

Public Rights Of Way Officer -Network Management

£19,572 - £29,190 per annum. Salary dependent on experience. Progression through the career grade is based on the fulfilment of required competencies

Kings Hill, West Malling

With over 6,700 km of public rights of way, Kent County Council manages the largest network in the country. It also has an excellent national reputation in service delivery and forward thinking, dynamic new initiatives.

The West Kent Public Rights of Way Team is looking for a new officer to join them to manage the Maidstone area network.

Responsible for a specific geographical area of the county, you will undertake a variety of operational duties particularly in respect to the maintenance and protection of public rights of way. A substantial proportion of the area sits within the Kent Downs area of outstanding natural beauty. You will work closely with landowners, local councils and other agencies. A significant proportion of your workload will come from the general public.

The post carries a high-volume workload. You will be able to juggle numerous competing priorities and adapt readily to the use of new technology. You will be a team player, have a good sense of humour and be educated to HND/Degree level in a related subject. The post also requires a high level of motivation, a good knowledge of rights of way law and practice and related countryside access issues and excellent organisational and communication skills. ### Shared Services Project Managers - Kent and Medway

The Kent Improvement Partnership promotes and facilitates collaboration between the councils in Kent and Medway with the purpose of improving services and value for money for residents.

The partnership's staff are hosted by Canterbury City Council, on behalf of the other Kent and Medway councils. Canterbury City Council is rated an Excellent Council and a Times Best Council To Work For. Terms and conditions include final salary pension scheme plus benefits.

Project Managers

£50,000 pa Fixed term for two years (with a likely third year, subject to funding)

Kent Improvement Partnership is recruiting two, highly experienced, professional Project Managers to help drive forward a portfolio of key shared service improvement and efficiency activities across Kent and Medway local government.

You will have extensive experience as a project manager, in a public or private sector environment, delivering large, complex, change and improvement projects. Ideally, this should be where a number of organisations have collaborated to share service delivery.

You will have a clear knowledge of, and enthusiasm for, the government's improvement and efficiency agenda and an understanding of its impact on local authorites and their partner organisations.

You will be experienced in Prince2 project management methodologies and will have demonstrated the ability to deliver on time and within budget.

You will have strong interpersonal skills and the confidence to work closely at both Chief Executive/ Member level and with project teams of middle managers in councils and partnership organisations.

Don't dismiss the pitfalls of missing work for football

WORKERS are being urged not to score an own goal by throwing a sickie during this year's Euro 2008 football tournament.

Amanda Finn, of Gullands solicitors in Maidstone, says that, although the UK does not have a presence in football's second biggest showpiece event, many employers are already worrying about the employment issues that will undoubtedly arise.

She says: "Without wishing to be killjoys, how can they deal with the issues that arise from absences which may affect their ability to maintain business as usual?

"As a starting point it is a good idea to remind all staff of the company policy for requesting time off and notification of sickness

"An employer does not have to accept a holiday request, but it is important that all staff are treated fairly and consistently.

Here's her advice to employers:

"If you do decide to make allowances for changes in hours to accommodate matches then it is important to stress this is a temporary arrangement and that employers deal with other staff requests, not football related,

with similar sympathy.
"Without seeking to make assumptions

BY TONY PATEY

about the gender of football fans, it is likely that if an employer has agreed to a small alteration in hours for many male employees, a refusal of a request for alteration to a female member of staff's hours for other reasons could lead to claims of discrimination.

"If the company is going to take a hard line in relation to sickness absence during Euro 2008 it is important employees are told about this prior to the event and that the procedure does not depart from any contractual scheme.

"Employers will have to be very sure of their facts to take disciplinary action and in any event should be careful to follow the statutory disciplinary procedures to avoid a trip to the employment tribunal.

"And what of the worst case scenario? An employee who has taken holiday to attend the matches is involved in violence. What can the employer do then? The answer is not as straightforward as you might imagine.

"Behaviour which takes place in an employee's own time may not give an employer sufficient justification for dismissal.

If you need guidance contact Amanda Finn at Gullands on 01622 678341 or by email at a.finn@gullands.com

LAST MINUTE: Stones end poor run with a five goal thriller against high-flying Hendon

Pugh goal delights the fans

A LAST gasp goal from Lynden Rowland secured maximum points ending Maidstone United's three game run without clinching a single point.

The name on everyone's lips at the end of the match was on-loan Gillingham striker Andy Pugh after a stunning debut.

On 32 minutes he sparked a reaction from the fans similar to that of Luis Cumbers when he netted the winner in his first appearance against rivals Tonbridge Angels. Pugh latched on to a pass from Dagenham & Redbridge striker Jacob Erskine and fired a 30-yard thunderbolt into the top corner.

Before the celebrations had finished, Hendon equalised within 60 seconds of Pugh's strike when static defending let Lee O'Leary score with the easiest of finishes.

It went from bad to worse for the Stones as their sloppy defending allowed Hendon to take the lead through Brian Haules.

In the second half, the Stones upped their game and equalised with a quality finish from Erskine. A long throw from Aaron Lacy found the youngster who turned on a six pence and fired in the bottom corner from 20-yards. However, with the game heading for a draw, a long Lacy throw caused chaos in the Hendon defence and Lynden Rowland seemed to bundle the ball home with his arm, but the goal Stones boss Alan Walker said: "I am delighted with the win but we had to have a few words with the boys at half-time as their defending was poor. They were not tracking their runners, we defended appallingly.

"I thought it was similar to last week. To be fair we could have won more emphatically, which is very encouraging.

"Pugh was sensational for us."

Draw is good news for ladies

MAIDSTONE ladies 1st XI remain in sixth place in England Hockey South Division after their 2-2 draw at home to Bournemouth.

It was a good result for the ladies as Bournemouth are third in the division and hot on the heels of second-placed Swansea. The result keeps Maidstone in sixth place and they are now seven points adrift of their nearest rivals Exeter Ladies.

The ladies are at home to seventh-placed St Albans on Saturday, which represents a chance for Maidstone to put some distance between the two teams.

A STUART Brockman brace helped Bearsted to a vital 3-1 win at home to Bromley Green in the Kent County Premier Division.

Elsewhere in the league, Snodland were denied an opportunity to close the gap on fourth-placed Hollands & Blair as they were beaten 1-0 by Coney Hall.

COMING HOME: Maidstone United are preparing to return to the county after having played their last game in 1989, this is an artist's impression of how the pitch would look

French intervention to help bring Stones home

MAIDSTONE United are coming back home to the county town for the 2009/10 season after almost 20 years in the wilderness.

Chairman Paul Bowden-Brown revealed that Oliver Ash, managing director of French company Richmond Developments, has bought a 25 per cent stake in the club which mean the Stones will be able to move into their new ground at Whatman Way.

It is hoped that with Ash's investment and an impending grant from the Football Foundation, the club will be able to play its football in Maidstone – the first time since 1989.

The club has tabled a Football Foundation bid to the FA which will put them in a draw to receive a grant. They will have to wait up to ten weeks to find out the result and, if successful, the club plan to use the money they have been allocated to build a ground ready for the 2009/10 season at Whatman Way.

However, the Stones have revealed they will be drafting in an artificial pitch, similar to the one used by England in Russia late last year. It has not been agreed for the pitch to be used in the FA Cup or FA Trophy, but it can be used for all the preliminary rounds of the FA Cup.

Bowden-Brown said: "We have had a number of cancellations at Bourne Park which means we have had to re-arrange games to midweek, which comes at a loss for us. With this new pitch there will be no problem with the weather as we will be able to play in all conditions.

"I know people have been complaining about artificial surfaces, but we have had this checked out by the Ryman League and the FA and they are happy with the surface. However, the Conference League has not come back to us with a 'yes' as yet. The surface can be used for ten years but the amount of use it will get will reduce this to five years."

The club's new investor told the press at a conference announcing the new plans, that the most important factor was Maidstone United returning to the town.

Ash said: "To bring Maidstone back home, is the priority. The catchment area for the town is huge. We hope to cash in on this and bring the club back to its town."

Ash will be working for the club for a few days each month, with Bowden-Brown retaining the role of chairman as he still owns a 75 per cent stake. The investment will not be used for on the field activity and will be solely for the club's progression and ground construction.

The 49-year-old, who has a duel French/British nationality, believes his investment in the club will bring them home. Ash is a big sports enthusiast and has helped with the marketing at French Rugby Club, Brive. His business interests also include a stadium consultancy section which he hopes to use for the Stones' new ground.

United will remain Maidstone Sittingbourne's Bourne Park until 2009.

BACK ON FORM: Maidstone built on last week's good performance at table-topping Jersey, with a well-earned comfortable win at home to struggling Wimbledon

Wimbledon punished as Maidstone bounce back

The confidence running through the side was evident when on five minutes, Scott Mitchell fielded a kick ahead from Wimbledon and fed Howson wide on the right.

worked opening score. Francis added the conversion to put Maidstone 7-0 in front.

Although Wimbledon have been in the relegation zone of London Two South for most of this season, they showed they are no push over by levelling the scores after 15 minutes.

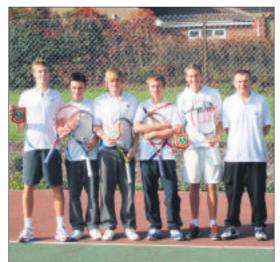

Wimbledon continued to dominate much of the play for the next 20 minutes was in the Maidstone half. But never did the home team try-line look really threatened. As half-time approached, Maidstone began to exert themselves. A chip through by Arnold was taken over the try line by Mitchell but failed to register a score. However, a try came from the resulting scrum.

The ball was fed to Arnold to score behind the posts, allowing Francis a routine conversion.

In the second half, a long kick from Arnold to the Wimbledon 22 found their defence asleep, allowing him to touch down under the posts. Francis posted his third easy conversion, taking the score to a comfortable 21-7 margin. Maidstone are next in action on March 1,

FINAL WIN: Maidstone Tennis Club won the national final to gain promotion

AGAINST all the odds, Maidstone Tennis Club men's team followed the success of becoming Kent County National League Champions by winning the national play-off final.

ring the national play-off final.

The Maidstone club defeated Sussex champions Chichester Tennis Club, to win the final which secures them promotion and a place in Division Two of the National League for the summer of 2008.

The team of Mark Ruffle, Jack Bishop, Ben Holmes, Sam and Jamie Brown, whose average age is 17, have represented Maidstone Tennis Club at senior level for the last four years.

The youngsters, who all play at the club based in Allington, have been a real success story for Maidstone Tennis Club.

The quartet have won a succession of Kent Men's Doubles League Competitions as well as Maidstone and District League titles.

Kevin Holmes, the men's captain, said: "In view of their age, this makes the success even more remarkable as they have proved they can compete against, and beat, older players."

In the match against Chichester, a club with 1,400 members, Maidstone won three out of four singles matches and secured victory by winning both doubles matches, with an overall match score of 5.1.

with an overall match score of 5-1.

By achieving promotion to the National Division, Maidstone, with a membership of about 70, are aware of the strong competition that lies ahead but are relishing the opportunity to play at the top level.

They will be playing teams from all over southern England, including Guernsey, The Queen's Club and even Wimbledon.

Anyone wishing to join Maidstone are invited to attend four sessions before deciding to join the club permanantley. Contact club secretary Gill Howard on 01622 710070 or head coach Mike Dunn on 07930436516 for more information.
